A collage of 12 small images arranged in a 3x4 grid, each showing a woman wearing a sari. The saris feature various patterns and colors, including pink, orange, yellow, and green. The images are somewhat blurry and have a vintage feel.

The image consists of a complex, abstract pattern of overlapping rectangles. The rectangles are of various sizes and are arranged in a non-linear, overlapping fashion across the entire frame. The colors used are primarily shades of grey, white, and pink, with some green and brownish tones appearing in certain areas. The overall effect is one of a digital or architectural rendering of a complex, layered surface.
